MARGARET WOOD

( M a r s h a l l )

● Margaret Wood is a huge-flowered deep mauve or mauve-purple of exceptional size and great beauty of color. For exhibition, it can win in the giant class, and for the home gardener, it makes an unusual show in the garden. But, we believe its greatest value lies in the strikingly beautiful and unusual floral work it makes.

Florists incessantly call for “that big mauve-purple.” The fact that spikes often have irregular placement does not appear to affect the demand. An outstanding feature of Margaret Wood is its exceptional ability to open large flowers right to the tip when cut in tight bud.

Bulbs, any size—$1.25 each; $10 per 10; $80 per 100

Bulblets—$14 per 100; $70 per 1000; $250 per Qt.

HUNTRESS

( Jack )

• Cut-flower growers have long felt the need for a high-quality, large lavender that is extra early. Huntress exactly fills that need. A good shipper; when cut in bud and opened indoors, color is actually improved.

Vigorous grower, makes good percentage of large bulbs first year from bulblets.

He informs us that it ships 3,000 miles very satisfactorily, and is one of his best Glads for the early market. Bulblets grow extra vigorously and make large sizes the first year.

LEADING LADY➔

( Johnston )

● Leading Lady enjoyed an unsurpassed show record last season, winning Grand Championships and Section Championships galore!

It is now time to get a start in this variety commercially, as it has all the fine commercial qualities of Picardy, but is white in colour. Also, it appears more resistant to disease, and has a somewhat straighter stem.

One of our Special Value Growers' Units will get you off to a good start!

W. R. READER

( Turnbull )

● The chief Commercial value of this pure salmon pink Glad lies in its earliness. There are several early light pinks, but this fills a definite need for a good early, salmon pink. Something the style of Aladdin, but lighter in colour.

This variety has been selling fast, so we haven't much left now.

PEARL

( Carlson - Puerner )

• Few Glads have had more publicity than this giant Cream.

Florets are of giant size, and can be grown to a diameter of seven inches. Color is a pearly cream, deeper in the throat, and is at its best under artificial light.

Southern growers are showing interest in this for long distance shipping, and the spikes we saw at the Montreal Show last year were of Grand Championship calibre.

MISS WISCONSIN

( K r u e g e r )

• Few varieties are in as great demand as this splendid rose pink from Krueger.

Many growers are looking for stock of this large, dependable, rosy-toned Glad, as there is no competition in this color—a color florists can use to great advantage.

Our stock, like that of other growers, is pretty well sold for this season, but we have a little left at time of writing.
